

Staff Accountant Intern

If you're looking for opportunities, it's time to talk to Payne Nickles! We're a regional accounting firm with an aggressive growth strategy. We strive toward providing "creative" services to our clients. That means having the ability to visualize new approaches and provide feedback that expands our clients' perspective. We are first of all CPAs, as well as trusted business advisors for our clients. We serve our clients through practical business advice predicated on our knowledge of our clients' overall financial situation.

At Payne Nickles, we believe that the primary function of an accounting internship is to familiarize students with public accounting through meaningful participation on a variety of engagements. Your primary function will be to participate in the examination, review, and compilation of financial statements; prepare tax returns; and prepare payroll returns and other compliance assistance.

Also, interns will have the opportunity to work as a team member on diverse client engagements to include manufacturing, not-for-profit, agriculture, and construction clients.

Our team of professionals continually strives to achieve value for our clients, our people and our Firm while at the same time adding value to the profession and the public trust. We want you to be part of our team!
